About San Diego Bay

- San Diego Bay is the historic home of the US Navy's Pacific Fleet while the bay is adorned with dozens of marinas and boasts nine yacht clubs, including the San Diego Yacht Club, which hosted the America's Cup on three successive occasions from 1988 to 1995.
- So proud is San Diego of its unique place in the America's Cup annals that legendary Cup yachts Stars & Stripes and Abracadabra, plus a replica of America, the first-ever America's Cup winner in 1851, can be chartered here.
- The eighth-largest city in the USA and the second-largest in California, San Diego is around 130 miles south of LA and just north of the border with Mexico. Although arguably most famous for its Zoo, San Diego also boasts an abundance of museums and other cultural and culinary attractions in keeping with its status as one of the leading cities in the US.
- It is a city typically blessed with warm, dry summers and mild winters, and even though the Pacific Ocean tempers the prevailing winds and weather around the San Diego Bay area, the consistent breezes and warm sailing temperatures make it a favorite spot for sailors, who sail here year-round. It's no wonder some of the USA's top sailing legends have come from here, including Dennis Conner, Lowell North, Malin Burnham and two-time Olympic gold medalist Mark Reynolds to name just a few.

Race Management

The race committee, equipment and boats will be provided by the San Diego Yacht Club. In April/May 2014 they hosted the ISSA Doublehanded Nationals and Pacific Coast qualifier on the venue. In 2016 all of the PCCSC Conference Championships will be held at the venue as a warm up.

Coaching

AI coaching will take place from the pier. Coach boats will not be provided. From the pier coaches and spectators will have prime viewing of the whole course. The navy barge and rotation docks will be designated as field of play zones and will be sealed off to parents and spectators.

ICSA Annual Meeting

The 2016 Annual Meeting will be held at the San Diego Yacht Club on Monday May 23. A lunch buffet has been arranged with the club including soup, salad and deli platter with chips and beverages for approximately $22/person. Danielle and Sherri will finalize the details with the club and need a firm headcount 10 days before.

Receptions @ SDYC

Several of the receptions will be hosted at the San Diego Yacht Club. It is a 10-15 minute drive from the race venue. They will be held outside on the front deck or the sail wash lawn. This has been a popular format with our recent major championships.

Reception @ San Diego Hall of Champions

One of the Coed Nationals receptions will be held at the San Diego Hall of Champions located in historic Balboa Park (15 min drive). The venue is home to exhibits on various sports and champions related to the San Diego area. In 2012 they opened their crown jewel, the Sailing exhibit complete with a fully rigged Star boat.

- We are working to secure hotel blocks with the SD Port Tenant Hotels (major event sponsor) and those will include Marriott's, Hiltons and other major brands.

Non Sailing Activities

The eighth-largest city in the USA and the second-largest in California, San Diego is around 130 miles south of LA and just north of the border with Mexico. Although arguably most famous for its Zoo, San Diego also boasts an abundance of museums and other cultural and culinary attractions in keeping with its status as one of the leading cities in the US.

Afterguard Championship

The Afterguard Championship is scheduled for the Saturday immediately after the Coed Championship. It will be sailed in the fleet of CFJ's as well as SDYC's fleet of J22's. Racing will take place in the La Playa basin immediately adjacent to SDYC with teams rotating from the race dock and spectators cheering them on.

That evening there will be a dinner celebrating the 80th Anniversary of the Morss Trophy and the 80th Anniversary of the founding of the Pacific Coast Collegiate Sailing Conference.

All alumni, parents and friends are welcome to stick around and join in the fun!
